

Sharon Pickett

An author and conference speaker that is very passionate about marriage and family. She has served in and led marriage and women ministries. She has been called by God to mentor and encourage married women to be the best wives they can be and inspire single women to maintain or establish a relationship with Christ while they await on their Boaz.

Having overcome difficulties in her own marriage, by relying on the word of God and great counsel, Sharon is equipped with words of wisdom and experience that she shares liberally.

The message shared in this book, When "I Do", but He Doesn't, God Will, does not only resonates with women, but men as well. Get ready to grow and learn as you read.

Publication:

When "I Do" but he doesn't, GOD WILL" is a dynamic thought provoking book that uses the Word of God and author Sharon Pickett's, insightful experiences to help women overcome the pitfalls of marriage. This book dispels the stigma associated with being "the weaker vessel".

Throughout this inspiring book, women will discover the authority that Christ gives them as wives through the marriage covenant and learn biblical and practical ways to salvage their marriage without sacrificing their dignity.

Whether married or single, you will discover the importance of being a woman of integrity, excellence, and character, along with, learn how God uses the "help-meet" in shaping her husband to become the man God called him to be.
